Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)

(I) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:
(A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
(B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
(i) is a party or a party" s oilieer; or
(ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:
(A) production of documents, electronically stored infomiation, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
(B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.
(I) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.
(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial

B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to pennit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling m1y or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises--0r to producing electronically stored information in the form or fonns requested.

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or
(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or infonnation that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.
(C) SpecifYing Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:
(i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
(ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored 11formation. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:
(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.
(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored fl1for111ation Not Specified.
If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or fom1s.
(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

The objection must be served before the earlier of the tin1e specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. !fan objection is made, the following rules apply:
(i) At any tin1e, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's oilicer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.
(A) U'hen Required. On tinlely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:
(i) fails to allow a reasonable tinle to comply;
(ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical linlits specified in Rule 45(c);
(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.
(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena on request

i) At any tin1e, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's oilicer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.
(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed infonnation under a clainl that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:
(i) expressly make the clain1; and
(ii) describe the nature of the withheld docun1ents, communications, or tangible things in a marmer that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the clainl.
(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the clain1 and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the infonnation under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the i
